

Program Goals:

- To provide direct instruction students with supplemental written expression and study skill materials that will reinforce the skills taught in formal lessons.
- To provide students with materials that will assist them in becoming more effective learners in a classroom environment, e.g., vocabulary development, written expression, and study skills.
- To enable corrective reading students to view themselves as “strategic readers and writers” as they interact with a wider variety of materials.
- To provide students with more advanced writing skills.
- To form a home-school partnership through home support of the classroom programs.